HYMN – I MUST TELL JESUS

If you've ever shared something with the wrong person, then you are aware what poor confidants people can often be. Sometimes they fail to sympathize with what we are going through. Other times they make our personal pains public. A secret shared with the wrong someone can result in a lot of regret. Or maybe you made the mistake of not telling anyone about a struggle, believing that you could handle it on your own. There are some things that no one understands except Jesus.

Elisha Hoffman wrote "I Must Tell Jesus" in 1894. Hoffman served in many churches and chapels around Ohio and is credited with the writing of thousands of gospel songs. We don't know what trials or burdens his lyrics allude to, but we can certainly imagine some of our own while singing them. We have all dealt with discouragement and disappointment, bitterness and betrayal.

Although several verses of Scripture seem to have been on Hoffman's mind as he wrote this hymn, one clear passage is Hebrews 4:15-16. We have a High Priest who understands and sympathizes with our weaknesses. Because of this we can come to Him, boldly approaching His throne, in times of trial or temptation. He, in His compassion, will extend mercy and grace in our time of need. Whatever it is you've been trying to handle on your own, you can tell it to Jesus.

Thank You, Lord, for being a place I can run to with all my sorrows and celebrations.

Pastor's Corner of Light: The Problem with Pain

Often people raise the problem of believing in God because of all the pain seen in the world. They struggle with the idea that "IF" there is a God then why has all this evil and suffering been allowed? Since it doesn't make sense that a loving God would let this happen, and it has/is happening, then there can't be a loving God, thus there isn't a God.

We would all admit that the world is not as we would want it. God would agree with. He created a "and it was good" world for us to live in but His love came with the need to give people the dignity of choice to obey His commands or reject them. From the very first people and onward, people have chosen, to some degree, disobedience and rebellion against God and the direction He has set before us. The world, and our lives, have been out of whack ever since. The good news – God began a work of redemption at the very beginning of when sin and/or brokenness entered the world (Gen 3:15).

God knew the path man was going to take was one which would bring pain and destruction to the lives of His children, so He first put us in a world which also includes beauty and goodness. While the world no longer operates as He intended and includes thorns, death, and other negative factors, it also has flowers, magnificent landscapes, beautiful sunsets and many, many Good Samaritans who make it their goal to heal and serve the many needs of those around us. For many the teachings of God's word has led them to find a life filled with contentment, peace, and fulfillment. On top of that He then sent His Son to redeem us from the eternal penalty of our sins and in His Son's resurrection brought us the guarantee of our own resurrection.

Our resurrection then leads us to the glory of an eternal life free from pain and problems. We look forward to a world that will be recreated in its original perfection and beauty and this time there will be no rebellion or sin to mar its beauty. There will be no brokenness, pain or suffering to deal with. God has brought a path into this broken world to help us deal with the struggles today and tomorrow – and has promised us a tomorrow with no struggles when His Son returns. John 10:10, ESV "The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy. I came that they may have life and have it abundantly." 1 John 5:11, ESV "And this is the testimony, that God gave us eternal life, and this life is in His Son."

1 John 5:12,13,20 ESV "Whoever has the Son has life; whoever does not have the Son of God does not have life. I write these things to you who believe in the name of the Son of God, that you may know that you have eternal life. ... We know also that the Son of God has come and has given us understanding, so that we may know Him who is true. And we are in Him who is true by being in His Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and eternal life."

So then, just as you received Christ Jesus as Lord, continue to live in him, rooted and built up in him, strengthened in the faith as you were taught, and overflowing with thankfulness.

Colossians 2:6-7

THE MOST WONDERFUL FAIRY TALE OF ALL

The Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost. – Luke 19:10

As a little girl, I watched fairy tales through cynical glasses, never quite believing the knight-in-shining-armor myth. I told myself I didn't want to be rescued. I wanted to be the one doing the rescuing.

I know now that life had taught me not to look for a rescuer. No one was coming, so I'd better take care of myself.

Now, at fifty-two, I believe in the most wonderful fairy tale of all – which is actually a true story. I believe that I am loved and pursued by the greatest Prince who ever lived. I believe he sees me as I am and loves me completely. I believe now that, as my friend Max Lucado says, I have never lived an unloved moment in my life.

No, this is not some kind of female midlife crisis. I don't believe that, because I love Jesus, I will be spared pain and sorrow. I don't believe all my prayers will be answered as I would like them to be, but I do believe that God is in control and is watching over me.

Do I still have moments of doubt? Sure. But the voice in those moments is far less convincing than it used to be. With Christ as my guide, I have been able to face the truth about my past and not just accept it but embrace it.

You can do the same. Every painful step on our various journeys has led us to where we are today, and I for one celebrate that.

- Sheila Walsh, taken from Daily Gifts of Grace; devotions for each day of your year

There are sign-up sheets on the round table in back for May if you would put your name down to help with cleaning assignments of the building.

They are broken up into 3 groups so should make it a little easier to pick a group you feel you can do to help with. And we really need the help!

- 1. Clean auditorium and disinfect chairs / door handles*
- 2. Clean the 2 outside restrooms and North entry doorway*
- 3. Clean foyer floor, dust, glass doors / windows / Nursery restroom*

Ask Vivian or April where the vacuums are and cleaning supplies. If supplies are needed let Mike know as he has key for toilet paper and paper towels.

We really would appreciate it if you or your family would pick 1 of the 3 chores that need to be done. THANK YOU!
